

Information on Evidence-Based Practice in Autism Spectrum Disorders and Children's Mental Health

- National Autism Center – Information on evidence-based treatment specific to Autism Spectrum Disorders.

<http://www.nationalautismcenter.org/>

- Association for Science in Autism Treatment – Science-based information on Autism Spectrum Disorders.

<http://www.asatonline.org/>

- California Evidence-Based Clearinghouse for Child Welfare – Although the site is geared toward child welfare workers, it is a rich source of information on prevention programs and treatments for children and families.

<http://www.cachildwelfareclearinghouse.org/importance-of-evidence-based-practice>

- SAMHSA Evidence-Based Practice Web Guides

http://www.samhsa.gov/ebpWebGuide/appendixB.asp#Health Treatment

- SAMHSA National Registry of Evidence-Based Programs and Practices (NREPP) - NREPP is a voluntary rating and classification system designed to provide the public with reliable information on the scientific basis and practicality of interventions that prevent and/or treat mental and substance use disorders. Descriptive information and quantitative ratings are provided across several key areas for all interventions reviewed by NREPP.

<http://www.nrepp.samhsa.gov/>

- The Campbell Collaboration – An international website providing empirical reviews on treatments and interventions in a number of fields. Very well-respected by researchers.

<http://www.campbellcollaboration.org/>

- The Cochrane Collaboration – Perhaps the best known and highest quality source for reviews of health care treatments. Cochrane's standards for review are some of the most stringent available.

<http://www.cochrane.org/>

- National Child Traumatic Stress Network – Provides information on EBPs for the treatment of childhood trauma.

<http://www.nctsnet.org/>

- National Guidelines Clearinghouse - Comprehensive database of clinical EBPs in health care, including mental health conditions.

<http://www.guideline.gov/>

- National Implementation Research Network – Research institute at the University of North Carolina focused on implementation of services and EBPs. NIRN provides publications, research and technical assistance to systems on effective implementation.

<http://www.fpg.unc.edu/~nirn/resources/detail.cfm?resourceID=220>

- New York State Office of Mental Health Evidence-Based Practice Website – Details New York’s initiatives that provide evidence-based practices to consumers.

<http://www.omh.state.ny.us/omhweb/ebp>

- Evidence-Based Treatment for Children and Adolescents – Website of Division 53 of the American Psychological Association (APA), Society of Clinical Child and Adolescent Psychology – Information on EBPs for treatment of children with conduct problems, depression, anxiety and ADHD. Information is gathered by the Youth Mental Health Network, a consortium of the finest child mental health researchers in the country.

<http://sccap.tamu.edu/EST/index.htm>

- Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Model Programs Guide – Descriptions of programs and practices deemed effective for the prevention and treatment of juvenile delinquency.

<http://www2.dsgonline.com/mpg/>

- Center for the Study and Prevention of Violence at Colorado University – Publishers of the popular “blueprints guides” to interventions to prevent and intervene with violent offenders. Includes listings of model and promising programs.

<http://www.colorado.edu/cspv/blueprints/>