

Dissecting Due Process – the Right Way!!

Eric Herlan and Hannah King will be dissecting all elements of due process, in a full day presentation that has been prepared especially for MADSEC and the Directors Academy. This is a must-see event that will be deeply informative and – you know them – FUN!

Eric and Hannah will of course explain the background for due process, the governing law, and technically, how it works. But from there they will do a deep dive into hearing strategy and hearing preparation. With audience help, they will dissect a bad IEP and show how an opposing counsel will do a crushing cross examination if the IEP is not well done. They will address how to build your case in advance, when you know litigation is on the horizon. The presenters will review strategy and risks in a FAPE hearing, in a disciplinary hearing, and in parent reimbursement disputes. You will also receive essential advice on how to do your own hearing on independent evaluation disputes. Not to be forgotten, Eric and Hannah will also explain the virtues of alternative dispute resolution in the form of mediations and resolution sessions.

If this is not fantastic enough, we are assembling a panel discussion with special education directors who have gone through due process hearings to discuss the highs and lows, the impact on staff, and the emotional stress of being under the microscope.

This conference is a first. Eric and Hannah are really excited about it. And not surprisingly, Eric is even promising us a new song that will fit this not-to-be missed topic to a tee!

Dissecting Due Process – The Right Way!! This is a must see event, gang. We promise you!
