

Announcement of Executive Director Hire
Maine Administrators of Services for Children with Disabilities

Beginning July 1, 2021, Gay A. McDonald M.Ed, CAGS will succeed retiring executive director Jill Adams. Gay aims to continue MADSEC's history of strong advocacy and high-quality professional development opportunities. Gay understands and believes the Executive Director of Maine Administrators of Services for Children with Disabilities (MADSEC) to be instrumental in the role of support and collaboration of special education services in Maine so that all Maine students continue to grow and flourish in Maine schools.

As an experienced educator with over 25 years of service to children and professionals, Gay dedicates her professional career to serving children and families with a student first approach. Gay's dedicated experience in public education supports the goals of advocacy for students, families, and professionals connected to special education in the State of Maine.
